

October 13, 2025: On Notice to Donald Trump and the United States of America

I have requested that you leave my home. I am left with no choice but to continue increasing my efforts to hold you accountable for your criminal actions against my wife and family.

I have already sent you notices to retain all documents related to me.

You are indicating to me that you are confident in your ability to conquer any case and any efforts that I use to free myself from your overbearing and malicious illegal spying program.

I am prepared to present this to a court of law for judgment against you both.

Play tough. Play unapproachable. Play as if you are unaccountable to all laws.

I will force you to prove that you are actually above the law.

Good luck!

Chris Carlin
